'Sand traps' ready soon

Work is almost complete on four 52-foot-long groynes which Altona Council is building on the foreshore, in a bid to trap more sand for the beach.

Situated on the beach near Bayview St., the groynes are 180 ft. apart and parallel.

Each groyne (pictured) is comprised of eight galvanised-wire mesh baskets filled with rocks.

City Engineer (Mr. Ralph Simmons) said last week the groynes were an experiment and would help to hold sand which was being washed away from the beach.

Cr. Harry Weaver told the Star the groynes could also serve to broaden the beach.

The groynes were built by a work force of five council employees. Two of the men are regulars on the council's labor gang and three are being employed through the State Government's emergency unemployment relief scheme.

High school ransacked

Thieves broke into Altona High School during the weekend and ransacked a number of rooms, stealing an unknown amount of small change.

They also smashed Belmont Avenue, was alerted and he called the police.

The breaking occurred at about 10 a.m. on Saturday when the offenders gained entry by smashing a window in the main corridor of the school.

Police found that two windows valued at $10 each had been broken.

Williamstown CIB is investigating.

After entering a number of rooms, the offenders tried to break into the principal's office and in doing so activated the school's alarm system.

The school's vice-principal, Mr. W. Harris of

Hockey players train

Members of Altona Hockey Club have commenced training for the 1972 season.

The first senior home match will be played on Saturday, April 15, a fortnight after the junior competition starts.

This year Altona will field four senior, three junior and two ladies' teams.

Council recently granted permission for the club to use the three fields west of Grant Reserve for the 1972 season.

SHOPS SEEK MORE LAND FOR PARKING

Altona traders are anxious to get more car parking space for their customers in the Pier St. shopping centre.

They have asked Altona Council to inquire about the use of Woolworth's land on the corner of Pier and Queen streets as a temporary car park.

And they want council to immediately develop two small areas in Railway Street South.

In a recent letter to council, the secretary of the Altona Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Alan Tyrell, asked that council do away with the section of footpath between the entrance to the railway station in Pier Street and Sargood Street to create more parking spaces.

Mr. Tyrell also suggested that car parking space be developed in Railway Street South, near the State Savings Bank.

Mr. Tyrell said this week that the car parks were filled on Thursday, Friday and Saturday mornings.

"We definitely need extra space," he said.

Mr. Tyrell said the Victorian Railways had given its approval for the use of land alongside the station.

At present, this area is a no-standing zone.

STAR GAZE

Local solicitor, Colin Hillman, had his money on Crown in the first leg of the double on the big race at Flemington last Saturday (and so did another punter whose name we shall not mention). The horse's owners live in Werribee.

Peter Thompson had his hands full (of hair) on Saturday morning as he minded the store for Mick the Wild Barber, of Somers Parade, who was away hunting ducks.

Believe Gary Howard (Egghead) is now the proud owner of what could be a pretty fast trotter.

A very overdue pat on the back to those Altona council employees who did a sterling job when the recent floods hit Altona. The employees were highly praised at the recent meeting of Altona council and a letter thanking them for their work was sent by Altona councillors.

It's not official yet, but local school teacher and health fanatic, Bill Ross, is planning to hold a mini-marathon in the area. Sounds quite exciting.

Highest price ever paid for a chocolate malted. Or was it a chocolate mare that Liz bought from Linda? And whose name is the receipt in?

PETER BRYDEN MEMORIAL MATCH

Altona shocks Juventus

In the Peter Bryden memorial match, Altona City gave promise of a successful season by out-playing State League side Juventus.

The Maroons had most of the play and only lack of confidence stopped them from winning.

Final score was 2-2.

Sixteen-year-old Haj Little — the name which is so well known in junior circles — stamped himself as a player of the future with two great opportunistic goals.

Other young players in top form were Iordanus and Vander Poel.

Healey and Hynes showed a steadiness that has been lacking and "Wingy" Copley was at his best.

A crowd of more than 1500 people turned out to see the game and support the underdogs — and the Kims Reserve boys rose to the occasion.

They matched Juventus in every department.

What a pity Altona's

brilliant left winger Micevski was out injured.

Next Sunday, Altona City plays SEWI, a team made up of the top professionals from England.

Kick off will be 3 p.m. The club thanks the many people who helped in Monday's charity game.

Donations are still being received.

Val's Column

Hello girls,

Are you wearing the "all-one-color" to match your mood?

Revlon's Natural Wonder in their latest range will show you how.

Moody Hues over your foundation girls.

The face is seen as a unit of color, and the color theme can alter to match the mood — all warm and tawny today with Moody Tawny colors, pensive and plum tonight with Moody Plum face and, say, out-in-the-cloudy meadows green tomorrow.

They have worked out five fantastic moods for you — or you could make more. The idea is to pick a mood choose a hue, and then use it as a complete color theme.

There are Natural Wonder Lid lights, Eye Shines, Cheek Shines and Lipsticks.

Here is how to apply — Lid Lights — stroke dark color over entire lid — to brow and shade it to the nose bone. White Lightener regulates dark depth as you wish.

Slide little satin rings in strong color all round the edge of your eye use a matching shade remember — or Pitch Black.

Or you could use Eye Shine all over lid without Lid Lights if you want a maxi-shine.

Polish up your cheeks like little apples. Extend this color across the bridge of your nose just for fun.

Take it high up to your temples too — that's new.

Lipstick — this slips on sheer and clear. Match your mood in these great new broody colors.

Set your mood off with Revlon's Eye Maker Duo. Great savings when you buy this Duo. A combination packaging of Fabulash and Fabuliner.

Color is really in! Lips are really coming into focus girls.

Coty have sent us the cutest little honey's of pots of Lipshine.

Remember their latest eye shades? In little pots, Dusky eye colors.

Well now there are four shiny, shiny lip colors. Sugar, Petal, Punkin and Ginger Shines. Just the thing if your lips are dry, summer dry, as there is an inbuilt sun screen in Honey Pots.

Slip on a little Dewy Shine girls, alone or over your lipstick.

A touch of the finger gives instant sheer color and dewy gloss.

NEW PETROCHEM SERVICE

The Altona petro-chemical complex area is the location for Commonwealth Industrial Gases' latest project to provide on-location service to manufacturers and other business organisations in the Western suburbs.

CIG already has a nitrogen plant established at its Kororoit Creek Road site, supplying clients with millions of cubic feet of nitrogen via a pipeline into the petro-chemical complex.

The nitrogen plant will soon be enlarged five-fold to cater for the increasing demand for nitrogen in the area.

Manager of the Altona branch, Mr. David Hutchings (pictured, right), said that in addition to the enlarged nitrogen plant the complex will also be served by a new hydrogen compression facility.

The hydrogen will be fed to the complex by pipeline. Another client several miles away at Footscray — Monsanto Australia Limited — is already serviced through huge bottles of hydrogen gas "strapped" together on semi-trailers.

The trailers are each capable of delivering 24,000 cubic feet of hydrogen.

It is anticipated that as Monsanto's new plant becomes fully operational, the consumption of hydrogen will increase to many millions of cubic feet a year.

Clients, from the smallest service station to the largest manufacturer, will also be provided with top sales service through a new retail centre which will be opened next month.

Mr. Hutchings said the retail centre will provide all normal CIG products plus a standard range of industrial and medical gases.

It will carry full stocks of gas welding and cutting equipment, gas welding rods and fluxes, electric welding equipment and electric welding consumables.

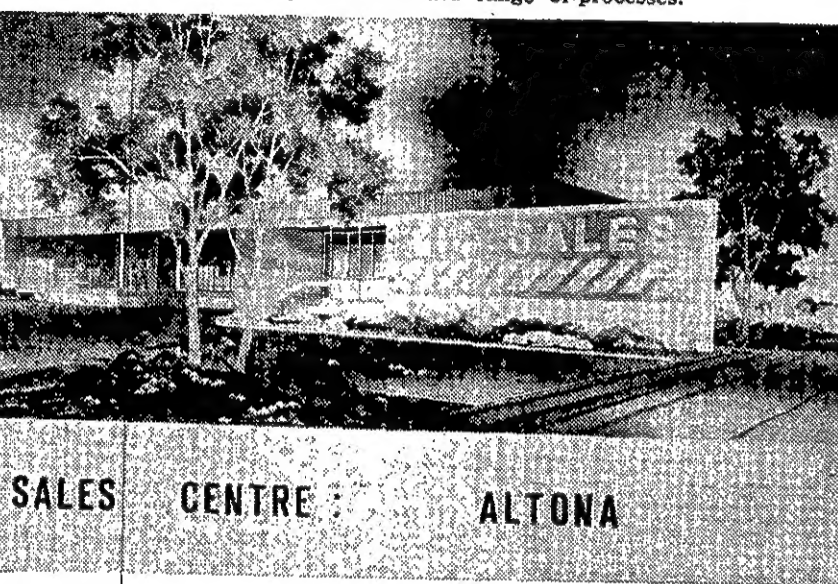

Other products, which will be available include, spray finishing equipment and safety equipment.

"All the products will be available over the counter or by a prompt daily delivery service," Mr. Hutchings said.

"We envisage this centre as a means of providing on the spot, direct company representation in the area, giving all our customers more ready access to CIGs technical resources and all of the company's products and processes."

Mr. David Hutchings: Helping supply the district with nitrogen.

200 attend 'beachclean'

More than 200 volunteers from 10 of the 13 local organisations involved in "Operation Beachclean" attended the beach-clean parade on Sunday, March 5.

By 10.30 a.m. it was warm, the tide was well out and organisation workers were busy cleaning up the foreshore making full use of their red buckets and a number of garbages provided on the day.

Many brought their own rakes and used them to rake down the sand after the larger debris was removed. The effect after raking gave the foreshore a new clean look, free of all debris.

The amount of work carried out was quite noticeable after a short time as receptacles along the foreshore were full and remaining debris collected had to be placed alongside the receptacles.

As work progressed, the Mayor and councillors of the city engineer and worked their way along the foreshore inspecting the work carried out by each organisation.

A magnificent job was done by all organisations.

In a letter to council, soccer club president, Mr. L. C. Noordeene, said if council approved it was proposed initially to lay a rink with timber surround only.

Mr. Noordeene said the objective of the rink was to provide additional amenity for Italian members of the club and to attract new members.

Such facilities would also give outdoor interest for males and allow the women folk of members the use of the pavilion when attending," he said.

Council made the reservations that siting of the rink be to the satisfaction

BREAKFAST IS SO IMPORTANT

To explain the "But I" game is fairly simple. It will generally take place between two people: A and B. A has the role of adviser and B is the person being advised.

However, in the "But I" game, B is never able to learn anything from A, fundamentally because all B really wants to do is air his grievances to A or to anybody else who is available.

Therefore, the pattern of the game is usually along the lines of A giving advice about health, for instance, and B invariably replying: "But I've tried that."

"But I can't eat in the morning". You're probably wondering what all this has to do with the health column.

I have talked about this psychological game because it is played more at breakfast time than any other time.

This week, I want to talk to the "But I's" about breakfast and suggest some sound reasons why they should drop the unhappy prefix.

Firstly, the food one consumes for breakfast determines the way and rate at which sugar enters the blood stream.

Why should this be important? Precisely because it is a person's blood sugar level which is so important in determining how that person thinks, acts and feels throughout the day.

So, where an adequate blood level leads to clear, quick thinking, no desire to eat and a slight distaste for sweets, a low level on the other hand leads to fatigue, irritability, and a craving for sweets (remember the "afternoon blues").

Recent studies definitely indicate that the best way to keep an adequate day-long blood sugar content is to have a high protein breakfast.

Foods like milk, skim-milk, muesli, brewers yeast, wheatcorn or chops and eggs will lead to a longer period of digestion.

Sugar will trickle into the blood stream at a reasonable rate and one will feel alert and have no craving for food.

Now let us consider a coffee-doughnut-white toast breakfast. This food will cause a radical rise in blood sugar content but will drop equally as rapidly leaving the person low on blood sugar and therefore irritable, tired and hungry.

Blood sugar content drops so quickly here because the over stimulated pancreas over supplies insulin which because of its excess takes too much sugar from the blood (which is later deposited as glycogen in the liver.)

While it is true that this stored glycogen will be re-converted to glucose and injected back into the blood if its sugar is too low, it is a process which takes time.

Such a breakfast provides energy for a short period only, perhaps an hour.

I WANT AN SM HE SAID — AND WAS FINED $10

A man who refused to pay a $20 on-the-spot fine for speeding told the police officer he wanted to put his case before a magistrate.

Patrick Wanders, of Huxtable Avenue, Altona, did just that in Footscray Court last week, was convicted, and suffered a $10 fine.

Constable John Walsh told the court he was travelling east along Williamstown Road in an unmarked police car at about 35 miles-an-hour when he was overtaken by a station sedan.

He said he checked the speed of the car at about 55 miles-an-hour and had the driver pull up at the corner of Williamstown and Sommerville roads.

He said Wanders, the driver of the car, said something about not realising he was doing anything wrong.

In cross-examination, Wanders produced an on-the-spot fine notice and asked the constable why the fine had been amended from $10 to $20.

"ERROR"

Walsh said he had crossed the wrong square in error.

Wanders asked why he had been asked to pay only a $20 dollar fine (exceeding the speed limit by more than 10 and less than 15 miles an hour) if his speed was actually 55.

Constable Walsh said he had wanted to give Wanders a break, to which Wanders replied: "I consider a speed of 55 miles-an-hour would have been dangerous driving."

Constable Walsh also denied suggestions put to him by Wanders that he had amended the fine from $10 and $20 because Wanders said he wanted his case heard before a magistrate.

He said also that he had no knowledge of Wanders making a statement that he had accelerated to avoid an accident.

DISCUSSION ON RAMP IS INVITED

Altona Council has written to the appropriate authorities inviting discussion on a more suitable position for a boat ramp in Altona.

A motion to this effect was passed at the recent council meeting after council had received advice from the MLC for Melbourne West, Mr. Alex Knight, that the Public Works Department had accepted a tender from Duncan and Russell Pty. Ltd. for dredging south of the channel at Cresser Reserve.

Under cross-examination, Wanders said he had not slowed down to avoid the accident as there was a car following close behind.

He agreed to speeding up to 45 miles-an-hour.

The charge of exceeding 35 miles-an-hour was found proved and Wanders was fined half his on-the-spot fine — a total of $10.

This year's street stalls

Altona Council has granted permission for the following street stalls to be conducted in the municipality this year:

Fifth Avenue Kindergarten Mothers' Club, Borrack Square, Friday, May 12.

Brooklyn State School Mothers' Club, Millers Road, Saturday, April 29 and Saturday, August 12.

Lutheran Congregation, Altona North, Pier Street, Saturday, April 15.

Altona High School Mothers' Club, Pier Street, Saturday, May 13, Saturday, November 11.

Council's 'no' to fun centre

Altona Council recently refused an application by Mr. Paul Tsaudaris, of Williamstown Rd., West Footscray, to open an amusement centre in Misten Avenue, Altona North.

Mr. Tsaudaris had told council he wished to install billiard tables, coin operated machines and refreshments in the centre.

Town Clerk, Mr. Jim Waters, told the recent general purposes committee meeting of Altona Council that Mr. Tsaudaris had visited council offices.

"I intend to sell Turkish coffee and soft drinks. I would like to commence as soon as possible."

Mr. Waters described Mr. Tsaudaris' shop as "newish". He said the owner of the shop resided upstairs — there was a rear staircase.

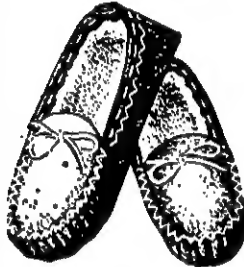

Cr. Charlie Carlsson moved that the application by Mr. Tsaudaris be refused and that appropriate officers keep the property under surveillance.

His motion was seconded by Cr. Ray Richards and carried.

CLAIMS "FIRST"

Farnbach Burnham Pty. Ltd., who have passed many milestones in their 100 years in the real estate business, are claiming a 'first' with their new office at Altona.

The company recently moved into a new $40,000 plus office building in Pier Street, which prompted some hard thinking by the manager, Mr. Rod Jones.

And Mr. Jones could not remember another branch office being built by any real estate company for its own use.

Mr. Jones should know, because he has worked for Farnbach Burnham for the past 16 years.

much to enhance the appearance of the Pier Street shopping centre.

It has filled a vacant block of land, which can give a centre an unhealthy look.

And it has filled the lot with a modern, spacious, plushly-carpeted building.

A block of four shops is soon to be built on the lot next door, which will complete the development of that side of Pier Street.

Many branches

He has seen many branch offices, but this is the first one he can remember which departs from the usual converted shop.

Farnbach Burnham's $40,000 investment is an indication of the confidence the company places in their Altona office, which serves both the Altona Meadows and Laverton areas.

The company have had an office in Altona for five years — the old office is situated three lots along from their new building.

Never before

But never before have they so urgently felt the need to establish themselves in Altona on a permanent basis.

The new building has done

● The new $40,000-plus office building of Farnbach Burnham and Co. in Pier Street.

Open front

One of the features of Farnbach Burnham's new building is the open appearance at the front, with the door set back some distance from the building line.

The idea is to get away from the cluttered look which gives so many real estate offices the air of a supermarket.

Posters are displayed in panels on the walls at the side of the alcove and the plate glass windows are kept largely clear.

Inside is the same spacious feeling, with plenty of room for expansion.

The company — confident that the area will continue to grow — has planned for the future.

Altona Band has resumed practice

The Altona Band has resumed practice and members are invited to attend sessions at the Civic Hall on Tuesdays at 8.30 p.m. sharp.

A Band Recital will be held at Logan Reserve on Sunday, March 26, at 2.30 p.m.

The band will be leading the district RSL March again on Sunday, April 23, starting at 10.30 a.m.

The march will be from the RSL Hall to the Flame of Remembrance.

Altona residents are asked to give encouragement to their local band during the Anzac Parade in Melbourne.

$33,000 loan for Council

A loan of $33,000 to Altona City Council was announced today by Mr. L. T. Bryant, manager of the Commonwealth Savings Bank.

The money will be used for various projects throughout the city.

The Commonwealth Savings Bank has now lent $740 million to local Government and $1736 million for housing.

Mr. Bryant said this lending is possible only by the splendid support the bank received from the community.

WATCH MINI-BIKES — POLICE

Altona police are concerned about the increasing number of mini-bike riders in the area, and they warn parents to ensure that their children take care with these machines.

"Otherwise there is going to be a fatality and it will be too late," a police spokesman told the Star this week.

LARGENY FROM YACHT CLUB

A yacht belonging to Mr. Robert Purdy, of Marigold Avenue, Altona North, was stolen from Altona Yacht Club early last week.

Reporting the theft to Altona police, Mr. Purdy said the trailer was blue and on it was a steel yacht mast.

The trailer was the aluminium-frame type.

What the Beatles are to music, the Beetle is to cars

For the first time in 10 years Ray Walsh, Victoria's hot rod champion, has outrolled his car. He was outclassed by newcomer to the speedway, Keith Lockwood, who drove a brilliant race.

(Ed. Byrne, Newport).

At Melbourne Speedway last Saturday night, Kevin Dams in the modified section, led all the way to win the Victorian championship. Very close second was Johnny McDonald. Keith Madden was third.

(Ed. Byrne, Newport).

It's about time something was done about people who double park in Pier Street, Altona, between Blyth Street and Railway Parade. The main offenders are sales representatives and delivery vans.

(Bob McVeigh, Altona).

If you would like to express your views write to: "Steering column", Advertiser-Star, 88 Ferguson Street, Williamstown, 3016.

During February, the VW Beetle achieved the biggest and longest production run in the history of the automobile with the completion of more than 15 million units, beating the previous record held by the Ford model "T".

Designed by Porsche and made into a world wide success by Heinz Nordhoff, the Beetle's international appeal has increased year by year through its producers' uncompromising adherence to the original idea of high quality at an acceptable price.

In the beginning, money was scarce, and at Wolfsburg, in West Germany, it was not much of a plant, but from the start the car was built well and was sold and serviced honestly.

In 1946 (its first full post-war production year) workers managed to build 1785 vehicles and soon the idea was to catch on. The following year, production increased to 10,000 vehicles.

In the years to follow Volkswagen became a household work in a hundred languages: the car that built a company and changed an industry.

Today, Volkswagen is the third largest automobile company in the world, producing more than two million vehicles a year.

There are many reasons for Volkswagen's success.

One significant factor is the constant technical improvement year after year. The only similarity remaining since the 1945 model is the shape: Each of its 5150 parts has been modified and improved.

The VW Beetle has found a world-wide market in 140 countries.

It is produced or assembled in 16 of these and is backed up by more than 9000 dealers and agents.

Like most giant multi-national corporations throughout the world today, Volkswagen's future is being carefully examined. Although the company is confident its immense development diversification programmes will provide a bright future, top executives are quick to point out that they see no end to the Beetle.

The Beetle has found a world-wide market in 140 countries.

The Beetle is produced or assembled in 16 countries and backed up by 9000 dealers throughout the world.

The most important sales markets are:

EUROPE:

West Germany — 5,157,000; Sweden — 445,000; The Netherlands — 431,000;

Austria — 324,000; Switzerland — 295,000; Belgium — 292,000; rest of Europe — 1,298,000.

AMERICA:

U.S.A. — 4,058,000; Brazil — 1,000,000; Canada — 425,000; Mexico — 218,000; rest of America — 225,000.

AFRICA:

Republic of South Africa — 200,000; rest of Africa — 150,000.

AUSTRALIA:

275,000.

ASIA:

214,000.

TOTAL:

15,007,000.

And now, not even VW's most game critics are prepared to predict how many more millions of Beetles will come off production lines throughout the world.

The curtain rises

by Thisbe

A naturalised Australian friend of mine was subjected to a violent physical and verbal attack a few weeks ago by two young girls on a beach.

She told me that before the incident, she has been treated with kindness and understanding during her 18 years in Australia.

She was quite sure that the attack on her was caused by some emotional disturbance, rather than prejudice. Among other unpleasant names she was called "a wog".

Because she has "shifted her heart" to Australia, she was able to remember that there are rude and violent people in other places too.

 The Williamstown Little Theatre's next play, The Shifting Heart by Richard Beynon deals with the heartbreak of an Italian family in Collingwood at the time when migrants were new and not as readily accepted as they are today.

The violence of their son's death in a street brawl brings tragedy and fear into the family's life.

The way in which each member of the family deals with this tragedy makes this moving play worth seeing.

This will be Doug Lindsay's debut as a producer. The enthusiastic cast will include new people to the Williamstown stage.

APEX RAFFLE

Grayson to head local scramblers

NEWPORT MCC REPORT BY
BRENDAN A. LARKINS

Newport Motorcycle Club's top scrambler and interstate title holder, Vern Grayson, will be heading the contingent of district riders along with Karel Morlang who will contest the Lilydale Centenary celebration scramble this weekend.

Vern, who is also a points holder in the Victorian championship moto-cross series, is having his second ride after suffering severe injuries when his car hit a horse on the Hume Highway.

He is one of the Newport club's most travelled riders. At present he holds the 125 senior and unlimited moto-cross titles of Darwin, N.T. In 1969 he was Western Districts NSW title holder of the senior and unlimited classes. He has also taken the first prize in the Queensland 40-lap experts Grand National scramble, and came second another time. In that race, there was one wheel separating first and second with the third place-getter three laps behind. He has also picked up many second overall places in moto-cross events throughout Australia, a creditable effort for a Victorian-based rider. His title wins in New South Wales in 1969 were exceptionally remarkable as the year preceding them he was an invalid after having broken his spine in a heavy fall in 1968. Vern has also taken third place in Victorian titles twice in the past three years and at this time he was racing almost every weekend in three States. His fifth place in the first round of the unlimited class Victorian moto-cross championships two weeks ago came shortly after his rather severe car accident. He is now reported to be fully recovered and is one of the riders favored to take out the main event at Lilydale on Sunday. Newport will be strongly represented throughout the grades with Vern and Karel Morlang, along with John Titter making a bid in A grade events. About 10 other riders will contest the other events for the club. A club run for non-competitive members is also scheduled to go to Lilydale to ensure support for the district contenders. To this end the club organises events ranging from scrambles to rallies, with prize money for major events being as much as $1000. At present, however, it is faced with the problem of having inadequate land to run major scrambles. The club wants to lease areas of land of 20 acres or more for this purpose. Any person able to help should contact Lionel Halton at Max Halkon Motorcycles, Barkly Street, Footscray. The next club meeting will be held on Thursday, March 23, at the Loft Reserve Pavilion, Maddox Road, Newport.

A GUIDE TO LEISURE

By PETER VAUGHAN

For a night out with a difference there is nothing better than to dine out in a restaurant that specialises in a particular national flavor.

There are many such places in Melbourne today which means of course that the diner is in for many and varied treats if he is game enough to venture forth and try new things.

Just such a place is the Broadway Hungarian Restaurant in Camberwell.

Here George and Marika Pongracz look after you in the best traditions of European cuisine by providing a choice of both familiar and Hungarian dishes from an extensive A' La Carte menu.

The Broadway aims at bringing better knowledge of food to the public and it certainly achieves outstanding success in this regard.

The restaurant itself is decorated in good taste without recourse to ostentation and it immediately imparts a feeling of warmth and friendship which is carried on throughout the whole meal.

The Broadway is licensed to bring your own so I decided on a 1968 Quella white burgundy which proved a delightful complement to the various dishes served.

After consultation with Marika on the variety available we made our selections.

My wife opened with Oysters Kilpatrick that were done to her complete satisfaction and she is a connoisseur of Oysters K. whilst I ventured into Hungarian meat balls and Sauerkraut that melted in my mouth with tenderness.

For the main course we decided to share the Broadway (or Gypsy) platter, a veritable mountain of Schnitzel, pork, steak, ham and Hungarian sausage served on a bed of assorted salads and topped with the Hungarian national flag.

The dish was as superb as it looked and could have easily fed three people.

For dessert I had apple strudel and my wife pavlova and these dishes proved to be very fitting ends to a delightful meal which was capped off by coffee and mints.

For a night of wonderful hospitality and food the Broadway's the place because apart from the quality food one cannot get away from the warmth of George and Marika who make your happiness their aim.

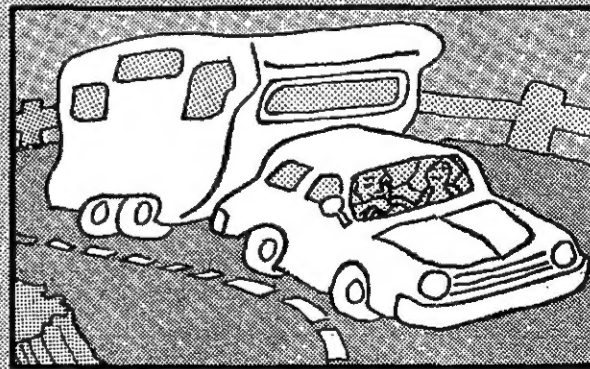

G. B. Shaw said "there is no love sincerer than the love of food". George and Marika Pongracz have gone one higher—their sincere love lies in the provision of excellent cuisine.

SUMMARY:

Where: Broadway Restaurant, 768 Burke Rd., Camberwell, 82 3616.

When: Monday till Saturday — seating 60.
Cost: Our meal $10.50 (not wine).

SWIM FOR A TROPHY

The Altona Life Saving Club will hold its 21st Club Championship on Sunday, March 19, at 2 p.m.

This is the day when all members swim to win a trophy.

There will be representatives in attendance from the Royal Life Saving Society, the Mayor and Mayoress of Altona, Cr. and Mrs. Lynch, and other councillors.

Mrs. J. Byrne will be asked to christen the club's new boat after her late husband, Mr. James Byrne.

ICIANZ, Yarraville, donated the boat, and their representative, Mr. Petherman, will also be present. The people of Altona are invited to come along and see the youngsters in the club swim for honours.

The next general meeting will be held on March 16 at the club rooms, commencing 7.30 p.m.

$650 given to hospital

Williamstown Hospital received $650 in donations recently.

The Number Seven Hospital Aiders Social Club contributed $500 and the Number Seven Hospital Association gave $150.

The hospital authorities are considering the complete remodelling and expansion of the casualty and outpatients department.

This project will involve many thousands of dollars — and the community's share will be 25 per cent.

Donations received from the current Annual Appeal will start the Out Patients Department Rebuilding Fund.

HOCKEY STARTS

Pre-season training for the Altona Ladies' Hockey Club starts on Monday, March 13.

The first compulsory training night is Wednesday, March 15.

Monday night training is optional.

The club trains between 7.30 p.m. and 8.30 p.m.

Any new and old members will be made welcome.
